The Freedom To Be Dumb

Being human, we have this thing called free will. We are free to ignore Cosmic Laws or simply be ignorant of their existence. However, their effects are unavoidable.

For every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction.” This is a well know primary Law of Physics. What is usually not considered about this Law and for that matter all of the other Laws of physics is that they operate not only on the three obvious dense physical dimensions but on all dimensions of the multidimensional Cosmos. The vast majority of intelligent humans do not even recognize the existence of these “Higher” Dimensions of Reality.

Cosmic Physics

Newton's third law, one of the primary Laws of Cosmic Physics, is a really simple Law. Yet the vast majority of the billions of humans are totally oblivious to it even in the dense dimensions in which we live. Most people, and this includes the so called intelligent and educated people on the planet, go about their daily affairs without a thought about the implications of the fact that for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction.

The self-examination of our actions during some selected day would quickly demonstrate the existence of this law. Taking an impersonal or scientific look at a 5 or 10 year period of our life in most cases, I am sure, would be revelatory, shocking, mind blowing, enlightening, possibly embarrassing, and at least momentarily depressing. Indeed, if we have been at least trying to live decent lives such an examination would also be encouraging, focusing, educational, and renewing.

As MM points out, “Every mistake must be a bridge to new knowledge, not an obstacle. Every erroneous stumbling can be a stepping-stone to the future. There are many mistakes in life; they can all be turned into fiery good if they have not undermined one’s courage.”

If we are able to actually do this as scientists, that is impersonally detached from the data that we discover, we will clearly see Sir Isaac Newton’s third Law of Motion, “For every action there is an equal and opposite reaction.” in motion or action.

This Cosmic Law was known and worked with by the Wise Ones from the getgo. Somewhere along the unfolding path of our planet’s evolution this Law became known as Karma.

Two Big Issues

The big problem with all of this has to do with our materialist scientist's infantile fixation on the dense material dimensions of reality, and with their totally myopic concept concerning the phenomena of time. These two issues greatly inhibit our understanding of this and all other Cosmic Laws.

Brain Conscious Time

I do not have language, other than common sense, to explain this, but Cosmic Laws work in a basically timeless multidimensional Cosmos completely outside of what brain consciousness thinks of as time. So, "For every action there is an equal and opposite reaction" does not mean that the reaction will have to follow immediately in what we call time, or within the dimensions we call the dense physical.

On the dense physical dimensions, reactions to some of our actions do occur almost instantly in what our brain consciousness considers to be time. A lapse in attention to traffic frequently generates an "almost", or an actual collision. Still, many of the reactions to our dense physical actions take various amounts of dense physical dimensional time. Being frequently late for work or meetings finally results in getting fired. Pollution of the planetary environments finally results in tidal waves, hurricanes, cancer, and lead poisoning. Loving our gardens results in wonderful flowers and fruits. Loving each other results in joyful fulfilling lives.

Actually, most of the reactions to the multitudes of our actions do not occur on the dense physical dimensions sometimes for what we call hundreds of years of time or any number of reincarnations. When these reactions, do occur, it is, I suspect, the quality and affects of the energy used in the initiating action that is rebalanced, not the specific deed. The equal and opposite reaction to an act of murder could be an example. Since Life is totally interconnected, not only on the dense physical dimensions but throughout the infinite cosmos, murder, as do all actions, effects a hugely wide field of other people, situations, and dimensions. The equal and opposite reaction will eventually bring whatever was imbalanced by that act back into balance.

Common Sense

The Ageless Wisdom indicates that the maintaining of Cosmic Equilibrium is the work of a group of Beings known as the Lords of Karma. I realize that until a person can experience and accept, at least as a commonsense possibility of the fact of a rational, balanced, harmonious, evolving, multidimensional Cosmos, and realize that what we think of as time has a meaning limited to only this dense physical plane, most of this will seem like foolish blather. But, without at least such an hypothesis, what is apparently going on makes no sense at all.

At any rate, whatever we think, a series of enlightened and dynamic actions taken by a group of human beings in 1776 resulted in the establishment of an Independent Nation. Independent meant that the Nation was not the personal property of any one person, king, queen, or group of persons but of the entire population of the nation. The nation was not only "owned" by its People. It had a Government of, for, and by its citizens whose function was to serve the Common Good and the General Welfare of all the people. This was an incredibly huge event in the evolution of Humanity on this planet.

And for the past 35 years or so actions have been taken on this planet, and specifically in this Nation, that have grossly eroded the advances of what it means to be Human.

For the United States, these actions have been culminating in the various policy decisions that the retrogressive forces currently running the government have been instituting. It is important to realize that while these actions have been taken within the confines of the United States, so called national boundaries are irrelevant to the forces of Cosmic Physics. It is imperative to realize that the economic decisions and actions taken by any one or group of nations have global repercussions.

When it comes to the Laws of Cosmic Physics, the Planet is not separated into human created plots of private property. The "meltdown" of an atomic reactor and the release of radioactive poisons into the land, water, and air do not stop at that country's borders neither do actions of government initiated and carried out race purging. Likewise, the creation of any policy or rule that tends to create conditions that separate, classify, and de-value some classes or groups of individuals as being inferior to other usually very, very much smaller, groups of individuals reverberate globally. The groups identified as inferior in any nation are thought to be worth-less than the superior groups in all areas of humanness. The "superior" individuals are therefore more deserving than others of Life's opportunities for growth and development.

When it comes to the Laws of Cosmic Physics, the Planet is not separated into human created plots of private property.

All such actions tend to disintegrate the actual unity of not only Humanity but of the very planet. This inhuman tendency toward separation is driven by our ignorance of Cosmic Physics and the consequential fixation on a dense physical reality. This condition generates disintegration and separation as an action and calls out from the very Physics of Creation a counter reactive force of overwhelming power that reestablishes over time the normal equilibrium and unification of nature and Humanity's role in evolution.

From the very beginning every effort to destabilize the equilibrium, and harmony of the evolving Plan, every effort to bring hatred, disintegration, and separation into the synthesis of Life we call our planet has been met with an overwhelming force of Light, Love, and Power. Recall the so called "myth" of Atlantis. This is why we are still here and will not be going anywhere very soon.

This is an easy to see process documented in the millions of years of our history. Perhaps the most recent example was the rise and fall of the Nazis. This present event which was initiated some 35 years ago has already started its downward spiral.

The aspect of note here is not that Nazis failed, it is that Truth Triumphed.

How this Truth will be formulated, how it will actually appear on the dense physical depends on many variables. The only thing that we can be certain of is that the effort of the Dark Ones has again failed, and that the new day is already dawning.

For centuries the laws of Cosmic Physics have been sent to us through legends, music, and poetry. The Cosmic Artist knows the end from the beginning, Shield and lance! God has blessed the warriors.

All will come. Twilight will end.

Do you not see that the Cosmic Consciousness is in convulsion?

We know the course of the battle—the Plan of the Creator cannot be altered.

From the Beginning the dark ones struggled.

From the beginning We conquered.
